

Dallas Chamber Orchestra®
Ronald Neal, Music Director
2009-2010 season

A ONCE IN A LIFETIME EVENT for Dallas Chamber Orchestra Patrons

Hieronymus Amati, Cremona, 1610 400th Birthday Celebration

Celebrate 400 years of music making with the voice of an instrument created in 1610 by one of the recognized masters of violin making tradition. Music director Ronald Neal will perform selected works written during the 400 years in which the voice of this unique instrument has been heard. Birthday cake and reception to follow. The birthday celebration will take place in the magnificent Harlan Crow Library making this evening a memorable and absolutely one of a kind event.

Tickets are $100 each or two for $150.

Cocktails at 6:30 p.m., concert begins at 7:30 p.m. March 6, 2010, Harlan Crow Library

1.

Dallas Chamber Orchestra and Plano Civic Chorus present

Beethoven Missa Solemnis

8 PM, Nov 7, 2009

St. Andrews United Methodist Church, Plano

2.

Serenade

Be serenaded by the extraordinary members of the DCO

Performing serenades by Elgar and Tchaikowsky

Works by Fritz Kreisler and Nicolo Paganini performed by Violinist Stephen Xi

8 PM, November 14, 2009

Jonsson Performance Hall, University of Texas at Dallas

3.

Dallas Chamber Orchestra and Plano Civic Chorus present

George Frideric Handel

Messiah

8 PM, December 19, 2009

St. Andrews United Methodist Church, Plano

4.

A Mother's Day Tradition

Music for Mother: Your Mom will be admitted free of charge

Handel: Concerto in B Flat for Harp and Strings

Beethoven: Serenade in D Major for Flute, Violin and Viola

Schumann: Quintet in E Flat Major for Piano and Strings

6 PM, May 9, 2010

Horchow Auditorium, Meyerson Symphony Center